FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1872. National Union Republican Ticket FOR PRESIDENT, ULYSSES S. GRANT

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, HENRY WILSON, of Massachusetts For Presidential Electors.

WM. E. STEVENSON, of Wood. THOMAS B. SWANN, of Kanawha

To the People of West Virginia. At the earnest solicitation of numerous citizen from all parts of the State. I have consented to the office of Governor.

SENATOR CONKLING'S speech, at New York Tuesday evening, fills fifteen columns of the Tribune, part of it in very small type, equal to thirty or forty columns of the INTELLIGENCER. It would make a good-sized book. Buch a speech defeats its own object, for nobody has the resolution to undertake to read it. Some of Mr. GREELEY's friends are endeavoring to explain away the old gentleman's pet financiat theory in regard to the resumption of specie payments, viz is now given out that Mr. GREELEY recently said to a fellow journalist: "I don't does repentance. He don't expect a dying world to repent right off; but he preaches 'repent to-night or you'l be in perdition to-morrow morning.' If he preached 'repent when you please,' they'd never re pent. If we can't resume, we can face that way." This explanation is ingenious but lacks the requisite thickness. THE Register's assertion that the Daily

Democrat is an evening edition of the In TELLIGENCER is as utterly false as any thing that has appeared in the editorial columns of the Register for a month-and that is saying a good deal. The paper is printed at our job office for the publishers, for a stipulated price, precisely as any other printing is done for other customers. The editors of this paper have Democrat than with the contents of the Register, and the editor of the Register knows it. He knows that the matter for knows it. He knows that the matter for the Democrat is prepared at an office on Market street; and that the Democrat is no more an edition of the Intelligence of the year, and it seems to us must tend to prevent a proper thrift, and also to induce disease in one form or another. Indeed a few months ago at our press room. His tis stated that whole herds are attracked a few months ago at our press room. His tis stated that whole herds are attracked a few months ago at our press room. en its influence among Democrats by pretending it is a Republican paper in disguise. In doing so he insults the intelliately and without excuse. The Democrat makes this statement, and so far as we know it is the exact truth:

"None but Democrats write for or have any control over this paper. We have it published in the only place it can be printed in the city, without placing our selves in the hands of the Camden Ring."

It is cheaper and in every way better to

The Cholera. The cholera is making its way from eastern to western Russia. In Moscow it has assumed a most malignant type. The theory now is that this disease, originating in the East, follows, after reaching, the lines of railway, and that, therefore, it may be expected this summer and fall in Germany and France, and may be brought across the Atlantic by the numerous steamer constantly traversing the Atlantic. New York city is said, by the papers, to be in a most filthy condition; just ready to receive and sustain this dreadful scourge. Jally if it is withheld from the purifying Considering the time of year, it is hardly influences of the sun and filled with mois likely that the cholera will prevail, should ture, soon becomes impure and unfit to it reach us, to any great extent this year, breathe. If, in addition to this, it is but it is the dictate of prudence to prepare as far as possible to resist its ravages. The first thing to be thought of is, of course cleanliness, in its broadest significourse cleanliness, in its broadest signifi-cance, as it relates to person, home, streets, yards, each one, and all our sur-roundings. If there has been any omis-sion in purifying cellars, out-buildings or houses, not a day should be lost in recti-fying the error. Cellar walls, all buildings where fowls or cows are kept, and era or not. While there should be mod eration in eating, there need not be, and, in fact, ought not to be any radical change in life if the habits are already based upon common sense. Nothing would be more injudicious than to refrain from a sufficiency of food. The danger, certainly, is not ordinarily in that direction, but there are some who run into the extreme of not eating enough, when there is apprehension of epidemic disease. No adult person should be guided by the appetite or experience of another. Each one should eat what has proved digestible and nourishing, using food as not abusing it, and not eating late in the evening. Nothing is more necessary or invigorating than sleep, but sleep is likely to be banished by placing burdens upon the stomach just before bed time. So far as possible all over-anxiety should be avoided, and above all things tear should be kept from taking possession of the mind. The Meeting Wednesday a Fizzle-The Oil Speculator don't Take-Jacob the Man for Governor. WELLSHURG, July 25, 1870

To the Editors of the Intelligenter:

The Wellaburg Nees, of last week announced that the Parkerburg "Ring's" candidate for Governor and others would talk to the people of this place on the Wednesday following. The Sec. and Pres. being dispensed with Colonel Ben proceeded at once to address the thirty-five there gathered, asid commenced by telling them that he was a delegate to the Baltimore Convention, and that when he went there he didn't intend to vote for H. G., but afterwards changed his mind. He then told the said thirty-five what he knew about Governor Jacob, but failed to tell what he knew about packed conventions, or Balters Palax, Challe, Waketalness, ac. Ad-THOMAS R. Cracraft told the audience that he only wanted to speak half an hour, but when the clock struck ten he was still at it, having gone over portions of his speech three times. He talked of people voting for bolters, and said if the Democratic party supported Jacob, it should be sunk a thousand miles below h—l. [Hurrah for Jacob.] This Cracraft also told his for Jacob.] This Cracraft also told his hearers what he knew about packed conventions, that he was one of those thousand fine looking, intelligent men that composed the Parkersburg Convention, and would any one suppose they were bought? Would any one think the delegates from Brooke were bought? We happen to know, Mr. Editor, that one of the delegates from this county received. cently said to a fellow journalist: "I don't expect these fellows to resume at once; —2 a day, and expenses, while there. Fall of a Bridge at Bellaire. (From yesterday's independent.)

An incident occurred in our town on last Friday evening which created quite a sensation, and came near being of a serial ous nature. Jas. Highleyman, Esq., was busily engaged at repairing the bridge over McMahan's creek; the planks had been taken up, most of the guys loosened, and the men were engaged with rope and tackle in taking out one of the bottom timbers, when the whole of the structure is fell pell mell into the water below. Day Highleyman, being on the bridge superintending the work, miraculously escaped injury, and was only subjected to a good ducking. The manner in which he was precipitated among the debris, and escaped without injury, is considered verging on the miraculous. (From yesterday's Independent.)

We do not commend it, or, at least, only in moderate quantity, in extreme cases. When our own food is too highly salted we reject it, or, if very hungry, eat it with wry faces and diagust.

All stock probably require a certain amount of salt, and if left to take it as they please, it would not be much in amount, and in quite small quantities at any one time.

If hay is salted as freely as many farmers apply it, the stock consuming the hay must take three or four times as much salt on which we can be consumed that they would if they could exercise their own choice about it.
